Respiratory Protection (Voluntary)

General

In the Respiratory Protection program, hazard assessment and selection of proper respiratory PPE is conducted in the same manner as for other types of PPE. All respirator use by employees is VOLUNTARY and must sign an appendix D. Giles Chemical, a division of Premier Magnesia, (Giles) provides air purifying respirators for employees to use if they choose. All requirements for a Respiratory Protection program and training have been met. References: OSHA Standards Respiratory Protection (29 CFR 1910.134).

Safety Department

- Implement the requirements of this program;
- Provide a selection of respirators as required;
- Provide training for affected employees;
- Review sanitation/storage procedures;
- Review compliance and ensure monthly inspection of all respirators; and
- Oversee administration of the respiratory protection program and conduct the required evaluations of program effectiveness.

Employee

Designated Occupational Health Care Provider

- Review medical questionnaires filled out by employees who use respirators voluntarily (Appendix C).

Program Evaluation

Evaluations of the workplace are necessary to ensure that the written Respiratory Protection program is being properly implemented. This includes consulting with employees to ensure that they are using the respirators properly. Evaluations shall be conducted as necessary to ensure that the provisions of the current written program are being effectively implemented and that it continues to be effective.

Factors to be assessed include, but are not limited to:

- Respirator fit (including the ability to use the respirator without interfering with effective workplace performance);
- Appropriate respirator selection for the hazards to which the employee is exposed;
- Proper respirator use under the workplace conditions the employee encounters; and
- Proper respirator maintenance.

Record Keeping

Giles Safety Department will retain written information regarding medical evaluations and the respirator program. This information will facilitate employee involvement in the respirator program, assist the Safety Department in auditing the adequacy of the program, and provide a record for compliance determinations by OSHA.

Training and Information

Effective training for employees who use respirators is essential. The training must be comprehensive and understandable. Training will be provided prior to an employee using a respirator in the workplace. The training shall ensure that each employee can demonstrate knowledge of at least the following:

- How to inspect, put on and remove, use, and check the seals of the respirator;
- What the procedures are for maintenance and storage of the respirator;
- How to recognize medical signs and symptoms that may limit or prevent the effective use of respirators; and

- The general requirements of this program.

Retraining shall be conducted annually and when:

- Changes in the workplace or the type of respirator render previous training obsolete;
- Inadequacies in the employee's knowledge or use of the respirator indicate that the employee has not retained the requisite understanding or skill; and
- Other situation arises in which retraining appears necessary to ensure safe respirator use.

Fit Testing

Fit testing is not required for voluntary use respirators.

Physical and Medical Qualifications

Records of medical evaluations must be retained and made available in accordance with 29 CFR 1910.1020.

Medical evaluation required

Using a respirator may place a physiological burden on employees that varies with the type of respirator worn, the job and workplace conditions in which the respirator is used, and the medical status of the employee. Giles provides a medical evaluation to determine the employee's ability to use a respirator, before the employee is allowed to use the respirator in the workplace.

Medical evaluation procedures

The employee will be provided a medical questionnaire (Appendix C).

Follow-up medical examination

Giles shall ensure that a follow-up medical examination is provided for an employee who gives a positive response to any question among questions in Part B of the questionnaire or whose initial medical examination demonstrates the need for a follow-up medical examination. The follow-up medical examination shall include any medical tests, consultations, or diagnostic procedures that the Physician deems necessary to make a final determination.

Controlled Document

Only those quality documents viewed through the Giles Chemical electronic Documentation System are officially controlled. All other copies, whether viewed through another computer program or a printed version, are not controlled and, therefore, the Quality Unit at Giles assumes no responsibility for the accuracy of the document.

Administration of the medical questionnaire and examinations

The medical questionnaire and examinations shall be administered confidentially during the employee's normal working hours or at a time and place convenient to the employee. The medical questionnaire shall be administered in a manner that ensures that the employee understands its content. Giles shall provide the employee with an opportunity to discuss the questionnaire and examination results with a Physician.

Supplemental information for the Physician

The following information must be provided to the Physician before the Physician makes a recommendation concerning an employee's ability to use a respirator:

- The type and weight of the respirator to be used by the employee;
- The duration and frequency of respirator use (including use for rescue and escape);
- The expected physical work effort;
- Additional protective clothing and equipment to be worn;
- Temperature and humidity extremes that may be encountered; and
- Any supplemental information provided previously to the Physician regarding an employee need not be provided for a subsequent medical evaluation if the information and the Physician remain the same.

Giles will provide the Physician with a copy of the written Respiratory Protection program and a copy of the OSHA Standard 1910.134.

Medical determination

In determining the employee's ability to use a respirator, Giles shall obtain a written recommendation regarding the employee's ability to use the respirator from the Physician. The recommendation shall provide only the following information:

- Any limitations on respirator use related to the medical condition of the employee, or relating to the workplace conditions in which the respirator will be used, including whether or not the employee is medically able to use the respirator;
- Users shall not remove respirators while in a hazardous environment;
- The need, if any, for follow-up medical evaluations;

Controlled Document

Only those quality documents viewed through the Giles Chemical electronic Documentation System are officially controlled. All other copies, whether viewed through another computer program or a printed version, are not controlled and, therefore, the Quality Unit at Giles assumes no responsibility for the accuracy of the document.

- A statement that the Physician has provided the employee with a copy of the Physician's written recommendation; and
- If the respirator is a negative pressure respirator and the Physician finds a medical condition that may place the employee's health at increased risk if the respirator is used, Giles shall provide an APR (Air Purifying Respirator) if the Physician's medical evaluation finds that the employee can use such a respirator. If a subsequent medical evaluation finds that the employee is medically able to use a negative pressure respirator, then Giles is no longer required to provide an APR.

Additional Medical Evaluations

At a minimum, Giles shall provide additional medical evaluations that comply with the requirements of this section if:

- An employee reports medical signs or symptoms that are related to ability to use a respirator;
- A Physician or supervisor informs the Safety Department that an employee needs to be reevaluated;
- Information from the Respiratory Protection program, including observations made during fit testing and program evaluation, indicates a need for employee reevaluation; and
- A change occurs in workplace conditions (e.g., physical work effort, protective clothing, temperature) that may result in a substantial increase in the physiological burden placed on an employee.

Respirator Operation and Use

Respirators will only be used following the respiratory protection safety procedures established in this program. The Operations and Use Manuals for each type of respirator will be maintained by the Safety Department and be available to all qualified users. Surveillance by the direct supervisor shall be maintained of work area conditions and degree of employee exposure or stress. When there is a change in work area conditions or degree of employee exposure or stress that may affect respirator effectiveness, the Safety Department shall reevaluate the continued effectiveness of the respirator.

For continued protection of respirator users, the following general use rules apply:

- Users shall not remove respirators while in a hazardous environment;
- Respirators are to be stored in sealed containers out of harmful atmospheres;
- Store respirators away from heat and moisture;
- Store respirators such that the sealing area does not become distorted or warped; and

- Store respirator such that the face piece is protected.

Cleaning and Disinfecting

The Safety Department provides each respirator user with a respirator that is clean, sanitary, and in good working order. See Appendix B-2.

The respirators shall be cleaned and disinfected when:

- A respirator issued for the exclusive use of an employee is the responsibility of that Employee and shall be cleaned and disinfected as often as necessary to be maintained in a sanitary condition; and
- A respirator issued to more than one employee shall be cleaned and disinfected before being worn by different individuals.

Respirator Storage

Respirators are to be stored as follows:

- All respirators shall be stored to protect them from damage, contamination, dust, sunlight, extreme temperatures, excessive moisture, and damaging chemicals, and they shall be packed or stored to prevent deformation of the face piece and exhalation valve.

Repair of Respirators

Respirators that fail an inspection or are otherwise found to be defective will be removed from service to be discarded, repaired or adjusted in accordance with the following procedures:

- Repairs or adjustments to respirators are to be made only by persons appropriately trained to perform such operations and shall use only the respirator manufacturer's NIOSH approved parts designed for the respirator;
- Repairs shall be made according to the manufacturer's recommendations and specifications for the type and extent of repairs to be performed; and
- Reducing and admission valves, regulators, and alarms shall be adjusted or repaired only by the manufacturer or a technician trained by the manufacturer.

Appendix B-2

Respirator Cleaning Procedures (29 CFR 1910.134 )—Mandatory

These procedures are provided for employer use when cleaning respirators. They are general in nature, and the employer, as an alternative, may use the cleaning recommendations provided by the manufacturer of the respirators used by their employees, provided such procedures are as effective as those listed here in Appendix B-2. Equivalent effectiveness simply means that the procedures used must accomplish the objectives set forth in Appendix B-2, i.e., must ensure that the respirator is properly cleaned and disinfected in a manner that prevents damage to the respirator and does not cause harm to the user.

Procedures for Cleaning Respirators

- A. Remove filters, cartridges, or canisters. Disassemble face-pieces by removing speaking diaphragms, demand and pressure-demand valve assemblies, hoses, or any components recommended by the manufacturer. Discard or repair any defective parts.
- B. Wash components in warm (43°C [110°F] maximum) water with a mild detergent or with a cleaner recommended by the manufacturer. A stiff bristle (not wire) brush may be used to facilitate the removal of dirt.
- C. Rinse components thoroughly in clean, warm (43°C [110°F] maximum), preferably running water. Drain.
- D. When the cleaner used does not contain a disinfecting agent, respirator components should be immersed for two minutes in one of the following:
  1. Hypochlorite solution (50 ppm of chlorine) made by adding approximately one milliliter of laundry bleach to one liter of water at 43°C (110°F); or,
  2. Aqueous solution of iodine (50 ppm iodine) made by adding approximately 0.8 milliliters of tincture of iodine (6–8 grams ammonium and/or potassium iodide/100 cc of 45 percent alcohol) to one liter of water at 43°C (110°F); or,
  3. Other commercially available cleansers of equivalent disinfectant quality when used as directed, if their use is recommended or approved by the respirator manufacturer.
- E. Rinse components thoroughly in clean, warm (43°C [110°F] maximum), preferably running water. Drain. The importance of thorough rinsing cannot be overemphasized. Detergents or disinfectants that dry on face-pieces may result in dermatitis. In addition, some disinfectants may cause deterioration of rubber or corrosion of metal parts if not completely removed.
- F. Components should be hand-dried with a clean lint-free cloth or air-dried.
- G. Reassemble face-piece, replacing filters, cartridges, and canisters where necessary.
- H. Test the respirator to ensure that all components work properly.

Appendix D

Information for Employees Using Respirators When Not Required Under the Standard (29 CFR 1910.134 )—Mandatory

Respirators are an effective method of protection against designated hazards when properly selected and worn. Respirator use is encouraged, even when exposures are below the exposure limit, to provide an additional level of comfort and protection for workers. However, if a respirator is used improperly or not kept clean, the respirator itself can become a hazard to the worker. Sometimes, workers may wear respirators to avoid exposures to hazards, even if the amount of hazardous substance does not exceed the limits set by OSHA standards. If your employer provides respirators for your voluntary use, or if you provide your own respirator, you need to take certain precautions to be sure that the respirator itself does not present a hazard.

You should do the following:

- 1) Read and heed all instructions provided by the manufacturer on use, maintenance, cleaning and care, and warnings regarding the respirators limitations.
- 2) Choose respirators certified for use to protect against the contaminant of concern. NIOSH, the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, certifies respirators. A label or statement of certification should appear on the respirator or respirator packaging. It will tell you what the respirator is designed for and how much it will protect you.
- 3) Do not wear your respirator into atmospheres containing contaminants for which your respirator is not designed to protect against. For example, a respirator designed to filter dust particles will not protect you against gases, vapors, or very small solid particles of fumes or smoke.
- 4) Keep track of your respirator so that you do not mistakenly use someone else's respirator.

I have read and understand the information provided to me regarding the use of respirators in Appendix D

Apéndice D

Información para Trabajadores que Usan Respiradores

Voluntariamente

(29 CFR 1910.134 )— Obligatorio

Los respiradores que son seleccionados y usados correctamente son un método de protección efectivo contra peligros designados. OSHA promueve el uso de respiradores, aunque la exposición sea menor al límite permitido de exposición, para proveer un mejor nivel de comodidad y protección a los trabajadores. Sin embargo, si usted usa su respirador de manera incorrecta o si la limpieza adecuada no es mantenida, el respirador mismo podría convertirse en un peligro. Los trabajadores pueden usar los respiradores para evitar la exposición a peligros aunque la cantidad de sustancias peligrosas no exceda los límites establecidos bajo las reglas de OSHA. Si su empleador provee respiradores para uso voluntario, o si usted provee su propio respirador, necesita tomar ciertas precauciones para asegurarse de que el respirador no presenta ningún peligro.

Usted debería hacer lo siguiente:

- 1) Lea y siga todas las instrucciones del fabricante acerca del uso, mantenimiento, limpieza y cuidado. También siga las instrucciones acerca de las advertencias en cuanto a las limitaciones del respirador.
- 2) Elija respiradores que sean certificados para ser usados en la clase de atmósfera contaminada, específica a su situación El Instituto Nacional para Salud y Seguridad Ocupacional del Departamento de Salud y Servicios Humanos (NIOSH por sus siglas en inglés) certifica respiradores. Una certificación o declaración que debe aparecer en el respirador o paquete del respirador le dirá para qué clase de uso el respirador está diseñado y la capacidad de protección que éste ofrece.
- 3) No use su respirador en atmósferas que contengan contaminantes si éste no está diseñado para protegerlo en esos ambientes. Por ejemplo, un respirador que está diseñado para filtrar partículas de polvo, no lo protegerá contra gases, vapores o partículas sólidas muy pequeñas de humo.
- 4) Marque su respirador claramente para que por error usted no use el respirador de otra persona.
